

Privacy Policy

Jan. 2nd, 2015.

By submitting information to this website via any input method, your information is securely transmitted, and is not used by or sold to any 3rd party entity. All information submitted becomes the property of MJ's Pot Shop and may be used for internal tracking and verification purposes for its own records.

Your information is not recorded or transmitted by any means to any official agency or government entity. Upon direct subpoena to MJ's Pot Shop, this information will be surrendered if available.

The site uses tracking cookies only for methods of verifying IP internet traffic and protocols and for security features in use by the hosting server. These cookies may be deleted at your discretion; however no data from these cookies is retained or controlled by MJ's Pot Shop.

External links leading away from MJ's Pot Shop website are not provisioned under any policy or control, and once navigation away to the external site is complete, MJ's Pot Shop has no control or affiliation with any practice or policy the external site conducts.